Central Saint Martins, College of Art & Design

The dramatic new campus for Central Saint Martins located in the landmark Grade II listed Granary building, is located at the heart of London's major redevelopment of King's Cross.

Award winning architects Stanton Williams produced a breathtaking design which maximised the views across London. Demco Interiors were involved in the design of the interior layout for the two floors of the new library and supplied shelving and furnishings.

The library space is open, and uncluttered with homage paid to the heritage features against the back drop of modern styling and furnishings. Demco's shelving is designed to maximise and separate space so that students have clear areas where they can work noise free, privately or in group study. Small pods replace large counters and little can beat the view from the study tables placed in front of the refurbished, original grain store shutters.

A perfect blend of old and new in what must be one of the coolest campus in London.
